Details

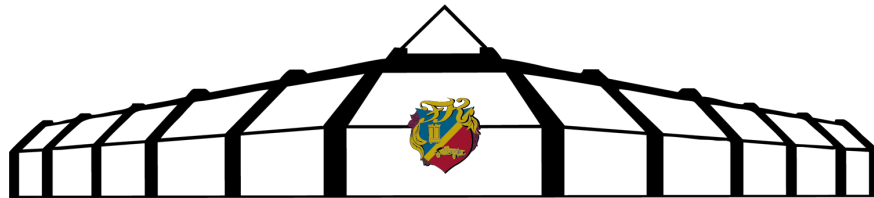

The vehicle described here is an original Quattro from the pre-series with a number of equipment features which, according to the previous owner, were not subsequently on the option list. The vehicle was recently restored and the engine was completely rebuilt by a specialist. Approximately € 30.000 was invested in the engine alone! The car is equipped with the 8.5" wide rims which only went into series production with the successor model. The special leather interior was probably only seen in the presentation vehicle for the Ur-Quattro. The front grille was slightly different and had slightly smaller Audi rings (no Quattro standard grill). Removable sliding roof, central locking and air conditioning are also part of the equipment in this vehicle.
